

Software-Spiral_Model

When to use Spiral Model ?

- When project is large
- When releases are required to be frequent
- When risk & cost evaluation is important
- When requirements are unclear & complex
- When changes may require at any time
- For medium to high risk projects.

Advantages

- * Additional functionality or changes can be done at later stage
- * Cost estimation becomes easy
- * Development is fast & features are added in a systematic way
- * There is always space for customer feedback.